Pomegranate

The rimon, or pomegranate, is special for many reasons. It is one of the Seven Species of Israel. The pomegranate symbolizes our good merits. May we have a year filled with as many merits as a pomegranate has seeds.

Apple

We use an apple as a sweet reminder of our beginnings. The apple symbolizes the Garden of Eden, which has the scent of an apple orchard. The hardness of the fruit, its durability, represents strength and growth, signifying the wish for a prosperous and sweet new year. We use an apple as a sweet reminder of our beginnings. Honey

How better to wish for a Shana Tova U'Metukah—a good and sweet new year—than with one of nature's sweetest foods? We ask for both, a good and sweet new year, because the two aren't always synonymous. Good things can often come through suffering, although we don't ask for this route. Honey represents fortune, rebirth, and personal growth through sweet experiences. May this year be good and sweet.
